

Harding Band Building #004

Building Gross Sq.Ft.: 27,840 sq.ft.
Re-commissioning Team Visit Period: Summer 2016

Principal Building Use: Classrooms, Rehearsal/Recording spaces

Building & Occupant Overview

Harding Band Building houses the UIUC bands recording studio, classrooms, practice rooms, and state-of-the-art rehearsal space. Included in this space is the Illinois Bands Library, the world's largest—and ever expanding—repository of wind band music; the Sousa Archives and Center for American Music (nearly three-fourths of the world's Sousa performance editions); the Herbert L. Clarke Library and Collection; the Carl Busch Historical Instrument Collection; the A.A. Harding Archives—and lots of people actively tending and using all these resources

Re-commissioning Specifics & Results

New DDC controls were added to the three existing air handling units in the building. Occupancy schedules were implemented. The existing air cooled chiller was retired and the existing chilled water loop was extended into the building.
